INTRODUCTION The assessment is the evaluation part of a course. After formulating learning objectives, developing course materials, and delivering a course, the results of the assessment have to show if the learning objectives are reached. The assessment needs to be one to one related with the learning objectives of the assessed course. It is also the starting point of revising the developed training materials in order to improve the course.

Assessment is crucial for both trainer and trainee in order to check the adequacy of the course.

This MasterClass focuses on assessment methods and various types of questioning, like multi-choice questions, open questions and case questions. With practical exercises and group discussions you train how to make an effective assessment. You learn to design an assessment, to make suitable questions and to formulate answers.
